- III. TEXTBOOK
Arnason, H. H, & Mansfield, E. C. (2012). History of modern art: Painting, sculpture, architecture, photography (6th ed.). Upper Saddle River, NJ: Prentice Hall.
- IV. COURSE DESCRIPTION
Twentieth Century art from post-impressionism to the present. Course includes study of architecture, decorative arts, painting, and sculpture.
- V. RATIONALE
This course is available to all art majors and is an elective course allowed for many degree programs at Mississippi College. In this course, students are exposed to the history of modern art from the late nineteenth century to the present and the great works from this span of time. Such exposure and integration of the knowledge of this period enables students to connect their own experience with that of the creative past. Art students build a foundation for the integration of historical images with their own creative work. Students are able to see the history of art in relation to the spiritual development of humankind and the development of the Christian spirituality as revealed in art.
- VI. LEARNING OBJECTIVES AND OUTCOMES
Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to:
 - A. Identify major artists and styles in modern and contemporary art.
 - B. Respond to questions from assigned readings.
 - C. Identify aesthetic theories as they relate to each artist.
